DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371© of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claims 37, and 39-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lee et al. (US 5,985,757).

Regarding claims 37, 39, 40, Lee et al. discloses a capacitor structure comprising: a continuous smooth bottom electrode (a first electrode) of Pt having a thickness of 800 angstroms (col.3 lines 45-50); a capacitor dielectric formed on the bottom electrode; a continuous smooth upper electrode (422) of Pt formed on the capacitor dielectric layer. See Lee et al.'s col.5 lines 20-32.

Regarding claims 41-44, it is noted that Lee et al.'s capacitor structure is inherently including a top (a second) electrode on the capacitor dielectric layer because capacitor has to have two electrodes.

The limitations "formed in the presence of both oxygen and nitrous oxide at a predetermined ratio with a combined flow rate in the range of about 1500 sccm to about 2500 sccm." in claim 37, "formed by depositing platinum in a CVD deposition chamber in the presence of both oxygen and nitrous oxide at a predetermined temperature and at a pressure of from about 10 to about 1000 Torr" in claim 41, "temperature is from about 250 ° C to about 300 ° C." in claim 42 and "pressure is from about 15 to about 30 Torr" in claim 43 are taken to be a product by process limitation, it is the patentability of the claimed product and not of recited process steps which must be established.

Therefore, when the prior art discloses a product which reasonably appears to be identical with or only slightly different than the product claimed in a product-by process claim, a rejection based on sections 102 or 103 is fair. A product by process claim directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made, In re Hirao, 190 USPQ 15 at 17 (footnote 3). See In re Fessman, 180 USPQ 324,326(CCPA 1974); In re Marosi et al., 218 USPQ 289,292 (Fed. Cir. 1983); and particularly In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964,966 (Fed. Cir. 1985), all of which make it clear that it is the patentability of the final structure of the product "gleaned" from the process steps, which must be determined in a "product by process " claim, and not the patentability of the process. See also MPEP 2113. Moreover, an old or obvious product produced by a new method is not a patentable product, whether claim in "product by process" claim or not.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 45 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee et al.

Lee et al. teaches all the limitations of claim 44 as shown above with the first electrode has a thickness about 800 angstrom. However, Lee et al. does not teach that the first second electrode has a thickness of about 500 angstroms.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the one of first and second electrodes having a thickness in the range as claimed, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPTO 233.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 37 and 39-45 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
